Seventy Class of Grayling School leaves the city this day morning at 9 a. m. by bus to Saginaw. They will be accompanied by class sponsor Mr. Thayer and Mrs. Thayer, Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wyman over Creek as chaperones.

Saginaw, the group will be by a local director, and leave Grayling Bus for Washington, D. C., to spend two days touring nation's capital. They will leave Washington at 8 a. m., May 4th, and after crowding a sight possible into the next 24 hours leave the capital at 8 p. m. on May 5th. They return to Saginaw at 9:30 a. m. Monday, May 6th, and get back to school Tuesday morning.

The class plane to attend church services in Saginaw will be met by school bus and brought back to Grayling.

Medical Practice Pattern Changes

The doctor's little black bag—traditional symbol of American medicine—follows a different today than it did 50 years ago. Then it made most of its trips from the doctor's office and patient's home; today it travels frequently between the doctor and the hospital.

The little black bag's altered illustrates the changing pattern of medical practice—the shift toward centralizing medical in the hospital," according to Dr. Mary Janice, administrator of the Hospital.

Medical care has shifted from home to the hospital, and with shift, a new ingredient has added to patient care—the technical methods resulting from the scientific revolution of the 20th century, she said.

The combination of science and medical patient care is the core of National Hospital Week—612. This observance originally celebrated as National Hospital Day, has been marked annually since 1953. Sponsored by American Hospital Association, it is held each year during week of Florence Nightingale's birthday (May 12).

The contents of the doctor's black bag have changed only slightly in the last 50 years, but changes again illustrate the shift toward the hospital. Sister Mary Janice added to the same may drugs—practitioners antibiotics and stimulants, starting stopped hearts. Substituted are the equipment and instruments the doctor used at the time of surgery, obstetrics and emergency treatment of crises. Nowadays, the doctors' surgical and obstetrical patients to the hospital and meets injured patient at the hospital's emergency room.

The hospital has indeed become a community's center for health care.

In the past 50 years, it has had laboratories, diagnostic x-ray machines, pharmacies, and other medical facilities necessary to the patient's recovery.

A new drug—penicillin is developed to help save lives and new diseases. This dramatic change in the past 50 years of medical care has been made possible by many persons.

Just as every medical service provided in the patient's home is accompanied by the individual care and attention of the doctor, every hospital service is administered individually to meet the needs of each patient." Sister Mary Janice said.

Hospital people are highly trained to provide the exact treatment or medication the doctor prescribes.

Individual concern for each patient is synonymous with hospital care.

Sister said. The scientific services necessary for patient's speedy recovery, but hospitals also recognize the patient's need for emotional support. Hospital people strive to provide this support by means of individual and personal services for patients and their families. Additionally, hospitals are adding many services which make such patient's recuperation more pleasant.

The care provided in today's hospital scientifically exceeds that provided from the little black bag 50 years ago, but the "tender loving care" which accompanied the doctor's visit is also still present.

In conclusion, Sister Mary Janice observed, "This combination of personal interest and scientific advance found in our hospital is summing up in this year's National Hospital Week theme—'Your Hospital—Sharing Science and Patient Care.'

Science Inc. Sends Live Mouse Aloft

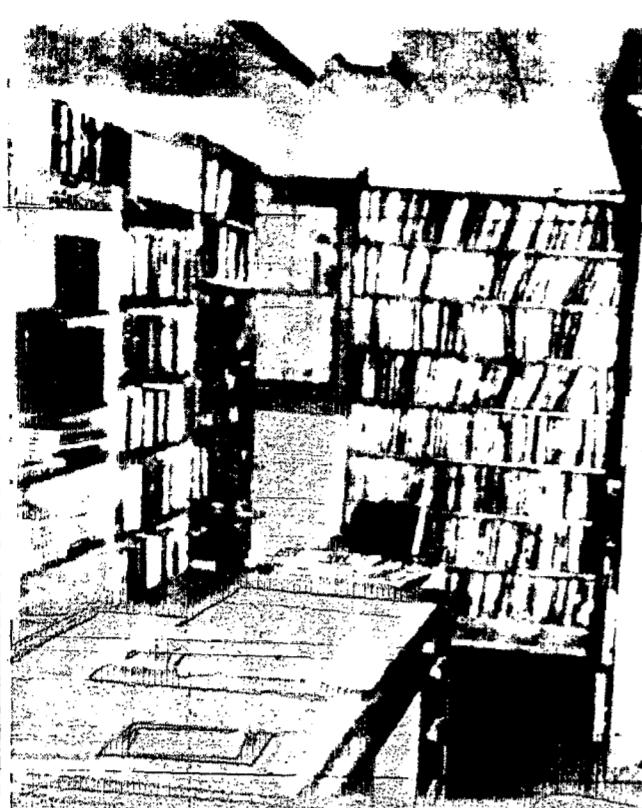

Science Incorporated, the rocket club of county young men, sent a record rocket last week on Wednesday evening. A live mouse was boosted three hundred and fifty feet in the air, and the rocket containing him returned to earth by parachute. The mouse was uninjured by his trip. Only three members of the club were on hand for the launching, which took place at the softball field in the recreation area.

Library Building Fund Drive Organizational Meeting Monday

The organizational meeting of prospective workers for the June 24th to July 1st fund drive for financing a new building for the Crawford County Library will be held next Monday evening, May 7th beginning at 8:00 p. m.

The session will be held in the foyer to the gymnasium and any person not contacted by mail to attend, but who is interested is sincerely invited to attend.

A canvas of the business and professional people of Crawford County will be held prior to the general fund drive for the public.

At next Monday night's meeting it is expected to inform all of the prospective workers of the building plans, estimated costs and the goal for the up coming drive. Any and all questions concerning the new building and the drive will be answered.

Each township in the county and the City of Grayling will set up their own drive machinery which in turn will report to the finance committee for the library.

Cash gifts will be accepted also memorials gifts will be acknowledged. The new building Architects drawings of the new building and floor plans will be on display for those attending the meeting to look over and study.

With the start of the drive seven weeks following next week's organizational meeting, each township and city committee is expected to be highly organized and their county citizens whom each worker is to call on will be furnished with a printed brochure showing drawings of the new building and containing full information of the structure and the meeting.

Romney will address the group and answer questions, according to an announcement from the Republican State Central Committee which is arranging Romney's visit.

The former American Motors president, who announced two months ago that he would seek the Republican candidacy for governor, is presently vice president of the Constitutional Convention.

He has announced that he will not actively campaign for the gubernatorial race until his work with Con-Con has been completed, thus the restriction of the Bay City meeting to forty workers.

Alfred O. Port of Standish, 10th District chairman, Mrs. D. W. Olson, Republican State Central Committee member from Bay City; and James Wood, Bay County Republican Chairman, are handling local arrangements.

Counties in the 10th Congressional District are Alpena, Arenac, Bay, Clare, Crawford, Gladwin, Iosco, Isabella, Macomb, Midland, Oscoda, Ogemaw, Osceola, and Roscommon.

Camp Grayling Building Funds Of $900,000 Scheduled For Release

The Crawford County Avalanche was informed Monday afternoon by Congressman Elford A. Cederberg's office in Washington, D. C., and the Adjutant General of Michigan's office, Lansing by Major General Ronald D. McDonald that the $900,000 earmarked for construction at Camp Grayling was scheduled for release within ten days to two weeks.

The Camp Grayling fund was changed in category by the Defense Department. It had been included in a group of other similar funds which were being held for organizational study by the Army Reserve forces.

Possible changes in the Army Reserve organizational structure and their readiness position may affect construction requirements of various summer national guard camps, including Grayling, Assistant Defense Secretary Charles J. Pitch had said previously.

With the money under a new category, it was said, that its release was just a matter of formality and should be ready within the ten days or two weeks period.

The change in category was brought about by pressure by Rep. Cederberg and the Adjutant General's office in Lansing. They argued that Camp Grayling was different than the others being held for study in that Guardsmen from three states were trained at the Crawford County installation. In that no changes seem to be contemplated in either the Michigan, Indiana or Ohio Guard, the change category was probably made.

Although the money will be released far later than was hoped it was expected that some construction work can be accomplished at the Camp prior to troop training period. The money will go for the construction of new mess halls, bath houses and latrines for the troops training here.

Cederberg was anxious to get the $900,000 facilities project going at Camp Grayling as an assist to the economy of this part of Michigan.

Grayling Float Wins Third

The float entered in the Kalkaska Trout Festival for Grayling by the Sophomore Class of Grayling High School was judged third in the competition. It was not the only one against just other school entries, but won in general competition with all floats entered and is thus quite a feather in the cap of the youngsters.

Theme of the Sophomore float was "Grayling — Year Around Playground." Half the float was a summer scene and the other half a winter scene, first painted on plywood at the end of the float, and then extended on the float bed with live trees, blue plastic river, real rocks, and a snowman. In the winter scene Marcia Dayson was a skier, and Judy Day an ice skater. Les Heistand was a fisherman in the summer scene, Bob Johnson a lumberjack standing a tree, the tree and Carl Marshall was an archer. The float was 8 feet wide and 24 feet long. The Sophomores received the assistance of several business places in getting their props, and Jerry McEvers of McEvers Motor Sales towed the float to Kalkaska and in the parade.

Winter Sports Queen, Nancy Hubbell was to have ridden on the float, but was spotted elsewhere in the parade by Festival officials.

The class has been one of the most active ones in recent years at the school. They entered every year in the sculpture contest that has been held and have won prizes for their work. They also have always had a float in the Homecoming parade held by the school each fall.

SANITARY LAND FILL

By Harold S. Cliff
City Manager

The City of Grayling and Grayling Township have taken another step forward by soon putting into operation the Sanitary Land Fill. This Land Fill is located on the SW 1/4 of the SE 1/4 of Section 17, T. 26 N. R. 9 E. which lies south of Clare Madson's Lumberyard, past the new road to the Grayling Reel Company's plant.

This Land Fill will take the place of the old Cut Dune.

The City and Township are taking great pride in the Land Fill as it is the latest and most desirable means of disposing of refuse. The method used in operating a Land Fill of this type is quite simple, but costly. The refuse is deposited at the bottom of a ground slope, then compacted by driving over it with a tractor, then covering each day with six inches of earth. After several of these cells are completed then a cover of twenty-four inches of topsoil is spread over them to seal them in completely, also to make a surface that can be seeded or landscaped. In following this type of operation several things are accomplished: there is no burning odors and no rodents.

Low flying jets will be seen frequently in that area during these periods. Citizens should not become alarmed.

State Government Spending Causes Big Controversy Every Year

S T A T E G O V E R N M E N T S P E N D I N G causes a controversy every year without exception. Every year, also, there are cries to "plug up the spending hole" in the money barrel and we may not have to add new taxes at the other end.

A proposal which gained little traction last year was designed to plug up the spending hole in the barrel. It was introduced informally by Sen. Lynn O. Francis, a Republican from Midland, but made little impact, perhaps because of timing.

Francis tried to get attention for his "cut the budget" proposals at the same time a bitter partisan fight on taxes was in the works.

The Midland Senator gave his colleagues suggestions of ways to reduce the state spending by a maximum of $13 million.

Francis said he was serious about all his proposals, although some suggestions drew remarks that he was going to a lot of trouble to be sarcastic.

Ideas which might rate serious consideration in the future involve about $5 million in savings, but budget-writers feel every "little bit" helps.

A $1 million saving could be realized if bookkeeping and accounting systems were improved, Francis said. There are now about 21 separate computer systems in state government for bookkeeping. The Senator said reduction of this to three systems could do the same job more economically.

An "emergency appropriations commission" within the Legislature has received $100,000 appropriation each year, but has had no expenditures for the last three years. Drawing this as "Frances recommends what would result only in a 'paper saving,'" however, because this budget item has not been used.

Another $65,000 saving could be accomplished, according to Francis, if the functions of the Civil Defense Department were taken over by existing police agencies. Gov. John B. Swainson also recommended this action.

A 10 per cent increase in college and university fees would result in a $2.5 million saving to the budget if the revenue from the hike were used for recommended salary increases, Francis said.

Lessened state contributions to various retirement systems; county contributions to support of patients and inmates in mental hospitals and prisons; and elimination of duplicating efforts in public and private agencies also were suggested in the Francis plan.

MICHIGAN WEEK, the ninth annual "brag week" in the state, will add a new feature this year for the May 20-26 celebration.

In past years, there has been an award for the product which contributed most to making Michigan known throughout the nation.

This year, some community organizations will receive an "Achievement of the Year" award.

Organizations of a community nature, serving a town, village, county or larger area will compete for the prize.

"Many community organizations have made outstanding contributions to the state by attracting new business or industry or otherwise having a valuable influence in the area they serve," said Milford Kendrick, chairman of the awards unit of the Michigan Week planning committees.

"It is this kind of community accomplishment which we will recognize in the new award competition," Kendrick said.

Entries in the new contest will compete in the same way products do. They will be judged on a regional basis, with the 16 final regional winners competing for the Countdown For Cancer . . .

An increasing number of people throughout the country have become living proof that the countdown for cancer is on.

In 1937, only one cancer patient in seven was saved. A few years ago, it was one in four. Today, it is one in three. It could be one in two. This is the countdown that saves lives.

Today there are more than one million men, women and children saved from cancer, and there is hope that even more substantial gains will be made soon.

There is no Cape Canaveral for the cancer count-down. Instead, there are thousands of scientists in hundreds of laboratories, hospitals, medical schools searching for the final solution to the cancer problem.

Their task is just as challenging as placing a man on the moon. What causes cancer? Is cancer a virus? Why do some people get it and not others? From these questions will come the answers that will lead to cancer's ultimate conquest and to the saving of millions of lives.

The current Crusade of the American Cancer Society is the opportunity for all of us to help speed up this countdown. Generous contributions will assure the society that every promising research project can be supported.

The Crusade also reminds us to take personal protection against cancer. Annual health check-ups.

Home Extension News

The Penny Pinchers Home Extension group met April 24th at home of Mrs. Earl Broadbent, eleven members present. Ladies express their thanks to Edie for showing the film, "Safe Breathing" to them. The members displayed Easter eggs they had made. Mrs. Kip took first prize with her egg. Mrs. Barney Hunter and Mrs. Prather May were runners-up in a money rabbit and large egg pattern. Much time and effort was spent on all three winners.

The new art foam purse kits were distributed and examined. In test served two Scandinavian foods, Swedish rye bread and Swedish tea ring, which she learned to prepare at the last meeting.

TROOP 22

April 30, 1962

We worked with the potato prints and were more successful this time. Everyone is to save their paper with the prints on it to show at the Minstrel Show.

Darla Lippard came to show us how to do the tap dance for our show.

There were 18 members and three leaders present.

The girls are asked to remember our meetings will last from 7 to 8:30 for the next three weeks.

SCHOOL BAND NEWS

The band traveled to Kalkaska for the annual Trout Festival. We marched from the school down through town and back to the school. On Main Street, we did the "Indian War Dance" which brought many comments of approval. We missed quite a few of our members on this trip. We would also like to give credit to our drum majorette, Gwen Davis, for the fine job done on Saturday.

The following students performed for the first time and they did very well: John Johnson, Marjorie Johnson, Gail Hunter, Audrey Walmsley, Susie Waller, Judy Wyman.

Other bands performing were:

Crawford County Avalanche

REPORT from LANSING

ROSS O. STEVENS
Your State Representative
(Presque Isle District)

Indecision — Congressional re-apportionment, Taxes, Appropriations.

The Detroit area still is trying to strip the Northland of Congressmen. Their latest attempt, in House Bill 88, as amended by the Senate, appears much worse than any of the others. What the House of Representatives will do to this amended bill, I do not know, but my guess is it is in for trouble. Republicans, in general, are not happy. Likewise, Upper Peninsula Democrats are not happy. Leaders who called the shots in the Governor's office, however, are very determined. They do not give up easily.

This same group apparently is insisting on an income tax. One would conclude from accounts in some daily papers that this matter already had been settled, that compromises had been effected. Such is not the case as far as I can determine. Here again, the issue is not entirely partisan.

I understand that some Democrats want no part of an income tax.

What they have in mind, self-styled leaders will force the state in a final show-down, is more difficult to guess. If they follow the usual pattern, they will bow down to party pressure.

Again, I repeat that passage of an income tax will not accomplish tax reform; rather, it will just add another patch which only will permit adding a few hundred more state employees.

If there was assurance that a flat-rate on income would remain the same through coming years, an income tax would be more palatable. History indicates that once an income tax is started, pressure is put on to up the rate year after year.

If our tax structure is to be improved, much time and study will be required. If general property taxes could be lessened, I would be in favor, but nothing has shown up to indicate sincere property tax relief.

Spring Band Concert Earns New Drum

The "Grayling" High School spring band concert held April 17 was attended by an appreciative audience. The band personnel and director, Leroy Jansen, should be commended. The concert was supported by the newly formed Boosters Club. Mrs. Don Jansen was in charge of ticket sales, which amounted to $91. This will provide one concert snare drum and a good share toward a second one. The Band Boosters Club will meet May 3rd at 8 p.m. in the Band Room. A slate of officers has been drawn, and an election will be held. Parents and friends are invited to attend.
